

GMH Mortgage expands sales team with new loan officer, Ron Slagle, serving the Philadelphia market

Conshohocken, PA: GMH Mortgage has hired Ron Slagle as a Loan Officer based in their corporate headquarters in Conshohocken where he'll serve the Greater Philadelphia Market.

"We are thrilled to welcome Ron to our growing team," stated Ted Lawler, Senior Vice President of Retail Sales for GMH Mortgage Services. "He has an accomplished track record in mortgage lending, a respected reputation both inside and outside the industry, and is a wealth of knowledge for his customers and our company as a whole."

Known for his expertise across different channels in the financial industry, Slagle joins GMH Mortgage with over 15 years of experience in banking, investments, residential, and commercial lending. Most recently, he has focused on residential lending holding multiple positions with Wells Fargo. No matter what his role, customer service and education have always been the forefront of his business model which is a main reason he made the decision to join GMH.

"Looking at a number of different lenders, speaking to people who work here and just getting a feel for the culture, I did not find anyone that had an equal commitment to the customer experience and the process for the customer. That's really the biggest piece that I needed to solve for, and this was the right place to be able to serve my customers best and serve my partners best," Slagle said of his reasons for joining GMH Mortgage.

Slagle is the father of seven children and lives in eastern Montgomery county with his wife and family. Ron is an active member in his community through involvement in educational, athletic, and service organizations as well as his church.

This announcement comes at a time of accelerated growth for GMH Mortgage in the Greater Philadelphia region – more than doubling its sales force in its home market during the first half of 2017. Recently receiving accolades as a Top Workplace, Best Place to Work, and 50 on Fire Fastest Growing Company among others, GMH continues to expand its geographic footprint throughout the mid-Atlantic and northeast.
